

*Group Presentations:
The Perfect Job
May 12, 2015*

Laura Novich

Question for the day

Describe your perfect job as a technical writer

What does the perfect job look like

- Working Conditions
 - Salary and benefits equal to the programmers
 - Flex-time (no time clock)
 - Flexible location (not chained to a desk)
 - IT equipment is up to date and legal

What does the perfect job look like

- Work Culture
 - You are the name - See this blog
 - Open atmosphere conducive to collaboration, innovation, and freedom to choose how I work, where I work, what tools I work with, etc. See this video
 - Maintains the highest standards of quality, accountability, and commitment

What does the perfect job look like

- Your colleagues
 - Are just as passionate and committed as you are and love working together
 - Come to you before making decisions about the product
 - Consider your opinion on UI/UX and even
 - Share their ideas with you openly without fear for their own position
 - When your tools or products don't serve you or the customers you have the power to change them.
 - Don't complain and ask why, rather they work together to make it so.

What does the perfect job look like

- For me.... pretty simple, my perfect job IS my job
- Life at Red Hat

